Catering To Nobody

Join the Highland Bookies
as we review

Catering to Nobody
by Diane Mott Davidson

Wednesday, April 9, 1998
at 1 p.m.

at the home of Anne Pinkerton
7921 S. Adams Wy.

721-6606 Regrets Only

Now We're Cooking, Inc.

Highland Bookies Report April 9, 1998

Catering to Nobody by Diane Mott Davidson

Name	Grade	Comments
Martha Boon ★	B-	Fun to read - interesting twisting of the plot even though all characters & events were not believable. Would like to read others.
Sheryl Davidson ★	B	I thought that the combination of food & mystery was fun to read & the story was a little weak - I enjoyed it enough to buy two more books in the series & liked relating to the environment of Colorado. Couldn't figure it out!
Nora Ruppert ★	B	A lot of fun to read, especially the references to Denver metro locations. Liked the Goldy character - her energy & zest never flags.
Anne Pinkerton ★	B-	Fun, mindless escapism. Not enough character development - I want a vivid picture of the people and how they look. Easy relaxing read. Great idea using food and including recipes.
Judy Bush ★	B	Fun, easy read. Weak on character development & the ending could use refinement, but great potential for a first book.
Marge Lewis ★	B	Mouthwatering. Plot was a little curdled. Some characters were as airy as a souffle. Not quite full enough to be an entree but was a good appetizer for further books.

Hosted by Anne Pinkerton

Highland Bookies Report April 9, 1998

Catering to Nobody by Diane Mott Davidson

Name	Grade	Comments
Peggy Jewell ★	B	A good first book for an author. I really enjoyed reading about the story taking place in Colorado. I'm looking forward to the author's next book in the series.

Hosted by Anne Pinkerton