

"BRILLIANT and hugely ambitious....
It's the kind of book that can be LIFE CHANGING."
—The New York Times

THE BOOK THIEF

MARKUS ZUSAK

THE EXTRAORDINARY NEW YORK TIMES #1 BESTSELLER

Brought to you by

"What Holocaust?.com"

The Highland Bookies will meet to discuss

The Book Thief

By

Markus Zusak

At 4:00 p.m.
Wednesday, January 16, 2008

At El Dorado, the home of Judy Bush

Book and Movie Review
The Book Thief

January 16, 2008
by Markus Zusak

Name	Grade	Comments
Diane Davis	A	I enjoyed the "German" citizen perspective of Nazi Germany. I loved it!!! I am so glad Carson insisted!
Judy Bush	A	What a great book. So not poetic. Love the characterization — The people were so real. I laughed & cried. I loved the narrator as death. I loved the foreshadowing, the bold-typed discussions in the middle of the chapters.
Nora Ruppert	A	Loved this book - a great concept to have death narrate. Also character development is superb and the relationships were very touching & real.
Sheryl D.	A	Great book! So poetic and lovely - good story about relationships, love, death & survival, love too the beautiful challenging of this book. Yeah!, a reliable narrator-Death!
Marsha Bonn	A	A slow start for me, but half way through I couldn't put it down. I liked that this has the Holocaust from the German citizen perspective. I liked the characters and the action in the second half. Very clever having Death as the Narrator.