

"A discovery...what makes the book so affecting is that everything is approached with a boy's generous and unwearied heart."

—Big Sky Journal

"This is a book that deserves many readers."

—Larry McMurtry

Name	Grade	Comments
Diane Davis	A	what a beautiful writer. I could feel the wind, the cold weather, and the smell of the horses. I don't like the way it ended.
Sheryl	A	The writings was fluid, so descriptive and took me away to the time & place... It took me back to my life in the outdoors, the smell of horses & of a bear! Didn't like the ending though.
Nora	B+	Liked the writing - very descriptive & heartfelt. It was amazing to me that these kids had so much responsibilities at such a young age. It was a new world to me.
Martha	B	I enjoyed all the visuals of the "Dude Ranch" life. He wrote well about all the challenges of his youth - and liked seeing his growth in ability & confidence.
Judy	A-	I loved the stories about growing up on a dude ranch in California. The author was very good & the stories were heartfelt & unique. I hated the way he ended the book - having rejected his heritage & become a liberal.
